REGARDING: democrat convention

COMMENTS:

Mr. Malloy I was just reading on the connpost how u will be speaking at the convention. I have been listening to all these republicans especially Mr. Eastwood asking how our President is going to answer the question about why he couldn't keep the promises he made. Well as usual they only pick what they want. Why don't look over the president's speeches that he made when he ran the first where he reminded the American people that it 8 yr to make the mess he has inherited and its definately going to take more then 4yrs to clean it up. They should have figured it out then 1. He knew he wasn't going to get everything accomplished and 2. that he was planning on running again. Maybe somehow u can remind the people. Thank you for ur time
Luz
